About Vidya Vikas Mandal

The seeds of the Vidya Vikas Mandal (VVM) were sown in the year 1971 by visionaries with a strong sense of social commitment towards the noble cause of education. The founder members of the educational society felt a pulsating need to bring education to the doorsteps of the people of South Goa and cater to their educational needs. This noble step marked the birth of its first institution, the Shree Damodar College of Commerce and Economics in the year 1973.

The year 1979 set another milestone for the VVM which witnessed the birth of the Govind Ramnath Kare College of Law, which was the second Institution under its umbrella. This thoughtful step proved to be a respite to law aspirants and bridged the yawning gap between the need and availability of higher education opportunities for students of South Goa and saved them of the hardships and expenses involved in commuting to the capital city in North Goa and across the country for pursuing their legal education. This was followed by the establishment of various other institutions, namely, Ramakrishna Madeva Salgoacar (R.M.S.) Higher Secondary School offering Commerce and Vocational streams under the Goa Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education; the Vidya Vikas Academy, a school with Higher Secondary Section in the Science stream under the Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE); the H.M.N. Gaunekar Institute of Management, Training and Research (IMTR) and the Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) Study Centre.

DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARY & INFORMATION SCIENCE

The Library plays a vital role in enhancing the quality of the academic environment in educational institutions, particularly in law colleges. Our library is well-equipped and maintains a collection of approximately 21,192 bar-coded books, including an exclusive rare collection of about 50 Portuguese books. It also subscribes to vital law reports, 30 periodicals, and 11 newspapers, catering to the academic and research needs of students and faculty. The Reading Room is well-furnished with a seating capacity of 60 students, complemented by a Discussion Room and a Research Centre, each accommodating 20 students. For individual study, the library provides study carrels, creating a conducive environment for focused learning. The library is also equipped with desktop computers, laptops, and Kindle devices, enabling students to utilize various digital resources. CCTV cameras ensure proper surveillance and security. The library is fully automated using the Koha -Web-based Open Source Integrated Library Management System (ILMS). Through OPAC (Online Public Access Catalogue), users can search and access bibliographic information from remote locations. Students can check the availability of books anytime and from anywhere.

To support legal research, the library subscribes to the Digilegal database, providing students access to historic and recent Supreme Court and High Court judgments, along with Bare Acts and notifications. Offline access to All India Reporter and a comprehensive archive of ILI Law Journal Articles and Annual Law Reports (1965 – 2010) is also available. Access to e-journals and e-books is provided through the N-LIST consortium, with each student assigned a unique user ID and password.

The library maintains a Calibre eBook Management System, housing around 1,000 public domain law books, faculty publications, dissertations, and question banks. When the Calibre server is active, these resources are accessible over the campus network on students' personal devices.

In addition, the library offers access to several digital platforms and services:

Magzter.com: A digital reading platform with over 9,000 magazines, newspapers, and journals across domains such as law, business, technology, and lifestyle.

E-Gazettes of Goa Notifications: A subscription service that delivers the latest legal notifications, government orders, and amendments directly to the library. Besides, Library has a Book Bank Scheme in place, allowing bonafide students to borrow textbooks for every course/subject throughout the semester in addition to the regular borrowing facility.

The library maintains a dedicated website: <https://sites.google.com/vvm.edu.in/grklib>, which provides up-to-date information including syllabus, question papers, access to free legal resources, and other academic support tools. A photocopying facility is also available, allowing students to print, scan, or photocopy study materials. The library is also committed to inclusivity with the addition of Braille books, audiobooks, and Balabolka software, which converts text to speech to aid visually impaired students and enhance accessibility for all.

To uphold academic integrity and promote original research, the library uses plagiarism detection software (Plagiarism Checker X) to check for similarity in academic submissions, including dissertations and research papers.
